Type and Level of Studies: Undergraduate academic studies
Course Status (compulsory/elective): Compulsory
Semester (winter/summer): Winter and summer
Language of instruction: English (other possible languages: Russian, French and Italian)
Mode of course unit delivery (face-to-face/distance learning): Face-to-face
Number of ECTS Allocated: 2
Prerequisites: As the course is focused on performing piano pieces, it is desirable for the student to have basic skills of playing the piano in order to follow the set programme or a programme of a similar difficulty level. However, if the student has more, less or very little prior knowledge, it is possible to adjust the programme to his or her current abilities so as to allow for individual development of the skills required by the subject Piano Practicum.
Course Aims: Mastering the knowledge and skills of piano playing needed for the development of a professional and educated individual, introduction to the literature for solo piano based on the elements of folklore, and to the basic principles of sight reading.
Learning Outcomes: Students are expected to master performing skills, to use the piano both as a harmonic and polyphonic instrument. Students, as future ethnomusicologists, develop capacity to recognise and study relevant literature, as well as to extend their knowledge of music characteristics of different cultures.
Syllabus: Practical performance of the piano literature of various epochs, styles and forms; playing scales and arpeggios; sight reading literature of all epochs. The programme is performed from memory (with the exception of sight reading).
Required Reading: Sight reading (ABRSM (Associated Board of Royal Schools of Music), songs for voice and piano and similar examples for sight reading. Set programme for the exam: one polyphonic piece of music of student's own choice, one etude, a sonata movement in a fast tempo (usually the first), one piece of music of own choice (from the epochs of Classicism, Romanticism, 20 th or 21 st century). Examples of the difficulty level: French and English suites. Two-part inventions, Preludes and fugues by J. S. Bach, G. F. Handel's suites; Etudes by Henri Bertini (op. 29. and op. 32), Burgmiller (op. 109), Heller (op. 45, op.47), Czerny (op. 299), Loeschhorn (op. 136); Sonatas by Galuppi, Cimarosa, Haydn, Mozart, etc.; Compositions of any epoch of student's own choice –preferably by Serbian composers or composers from the student's country of origin.
